

Research project PR1

There is a need for research that investigates the meaning behind terms associated with democracy. This study investigates how democratic values are negotiated in the core curricula of Germany (BW), Poland, and Norway. In this study we are conducting a cross country contemporary comparison of one national (core) curriculum with another.